

For the Busy Man

Constant Reader Tells What He Missed in Last Week's Papers.

Do you think our troops will be obliged to interfere in the Mexican revolution? asked busy man as he met Constant Reader last evening.

It is too early yet to risk my reputation as a prophet," he replied, "but the situation down there seems serious for the moment. It is prolonged. Bright hopes were entertained that when Señor Limantour, the Mexican Minister of Finance, who had been abroad for some time, got back to Mexico City and had a conference with the other ministers in the cabinet of President Díaz, some solution of the difficulty would be discovered; but after that conference, Limantour admitted that he had been unable to find a solution of the difficulty, and that the administration had decided to confront the government, and had no alternative but to continue its military operations.

Soon after that statement, however, the entire Díaz cabinet resigned, in the belief that their action would contribute to the establishment of peace. Although the resignations included that of Ramón Corral, Minister of the Interior, and the Interior is not now in the hands of a single man, the family government and three other Americans were shot by order of a Mexican court martial for taking part in the insurrection.

"President Taft took another important step in the direction of allaying the various unfounded war rumors when he formally visited the Japanese Ambassador, Baron Ichida, to call at the White House for a chat. There, the President assured the baron that this country felt no uncertainty as to the real friendliness of Japan and that recent talk of Japanese participation in the Mexican troubles with a view to obtaining a landing on the Pacific Coast was known by the administration to be absolutely unfounded. In conclusion, he asked Baron Ichida to convey directly to the Japanese Emperor the sentiments he had expressed, and to assure him of the continued and substantial friendship of the United States for Japan."

"What have our statesmen been doing?" asked busy man.

TAFT'S NEXT MESSAGE.

"It was announced that President Taft would send a message to the extra session of Congress, to be convened on April 4, on Canadian reciprocity and to the establishment of a permanent tariff board.

Thereafter, Roosevelt, in a speech before the City Club of Los Angeles, declared in favor of the recall of judges in California. In Phoenix, Ariz., he said that the recall of judges should not be adopted until they had experienced the people were given to it to decide with some worse effect.

"At the University of California's Charter Day ceremonies, Mr. Roosevelt said: 'I am interested in the Panama Canal because I started it. If I had followed traditional conservative methods I would have submitted a dignified state paper of probably two hundred pages to Congress and the debates on it would have been going on ever, but I took the Canal Zone and let Congress decide, and while the debate goes on the canal does also.'

"At a conference of the Democratic members of the Legislature at Albany, a resolution was passed without a dissenting vote for the purpose of reconsidering the nomination for United States Senator made at the joint caucus on January 15. This was taken to mean that the present legislative outlook on the election of a United States Senator will be over within a few days and another candidate than William F. Sheehan selected.

"The death of woman suffrage for another year was sounded at Albany when the Senate Judiciary Committee by a vote of 8 to 2 decided against reporting either of the New York bills. They are the New York State Woman Suffrage Association measure.

"A bill to charter the Carnegie Corporation for the purpose of conducting the Carnegie projects for the advancement and diffusion of knowledge was introduced by Senator Bradley at Albany. These men are named as incorporators: Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller, Henry S. Pritchett, William N. Brewster, S. Woodward, Charles L. Taylor, Robert A. Franks and James Bertram. The activities of the proposed corporation are to be extended throughout the United States. The Carnegie philanthropies which are to be turned over to its care are: Libraries, technical schools, institutions of higher learning, scientific research, hero films, useful publications, and such other agencies for the diffusion of knowledge as the corporation may find appropriate.

GOVERNOR WILSON BITES.

"Perhaps the most sensational incident in which Governor Wilson has participated since he became New Jersey's Chief Executive was the closing of an interview between him and James R. Nugent, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, on the German primary and election reform bill. The Governor said that he was invited to his own office by Nugent, and he promptly ordered the latter from the room, declining to have any further conversation with him. Nugent declared that the insult was offered by the Governor.

"Senator Nichols's bill ratifying the income tax amendment to the federal constitution was defeated in the New Jersey Senate by a vote of 12 to 8.

"Governor Wilson won a victory over both the Republican and Democratic state machines when the Assembly passed the German election reform bill.

"Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan, a former Assistant District Attorney and a nephew of the late Archbishop Corrigan, sent to the newspapers a letter in which he declared that crime of almost every kind is being flagrantly and openly committed in this city at present, with almost no effort made to check it. He asserted also that this wave of lawlessness was daily increasing, and that the blame solely on Mayor Gaynor. He declared that whatever the willingness of the police to protect the lives and property of citizens, they were actually afraid to do so because of the chances of getting into trouble themselves with the Mayor, who, the magistrate said, had taken the administration of the police into his own hands.

"Mayor Gaynor issued a statement, in which he characterized Magistrate Corrigan's utterances as 'sedition' and said, in effect, he would take steps for his removal from office.

"Borough President McNulty announced twenty-eight appointments to the local school boards of Manhattan. Twelve were women.

"The woman suffrage bill, with referendum amendment providing for local option, was passed in the Illinois Senate by a vote of 21 to 16. The bill had not been considered by the House.

"By a vote of 11 to 9 the New Hampshire Senate defeated for the second time at this session a resolution passed by the House of Representatives ratifying the income tax amendment to the national constitution.

"Governor Odell of Nevada signed what is known as the 'time lock divorce law,' defining six months' continual physical presence of the plaintiff in that state as the sole requisite upon which to base jurisdiction in divorce proceedings."

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

"Anything of significance develops in the field of commerce," asked busy man.

"William J. Cummins, chairman of the board of directors of the Carnegie Trust Company, whose personality has tinged all the activities of the institution and those identified with it for more than a year, was indicted, three times on three distinct charges of grand larceny. The charges are: (1) The larceny of $120,000 on April 21, 1910; $15,000 on April 22, and $10,000 on April 23.

A letter written by Clark Williams to Andrew Carnegie, urging him to come to the rescue of William J. Cummins and his associates in the Carnegie Trust Company at a time when the State Banking Department was clamoring for Cummins and his friends to rid the Carnegie Trust of their associates, was published in the press. In this letter, written less than three months after Mr. Williams had quit as State Superintendent of Banks to accept the State Comptroller's office, which had been offered him by Governor Hughes, Mr. Williams says that Mr. Cummins is his intimate and great personal friend, and that he had the greatest regard for his ability and integrity of purpose.

"Judge George A. Carpenter, in the United States District Court in Chicago, refused to grant indictments against five Chicago meat packers. He placed a limit on the freedom from liability granted the packers in the 'immunity bill' given by Judge Otis Humphrey in 1906, and ruled that this did not prohibit the facts and evidence, on which it was granted, from being used as evidence to establish proof of a conspiracy existing at a date after the immunity was given.

"The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company, which recently reduced its annual dividend rate from 6 per cent to 5 per cent, earned in the year ended December 31, 1910, a trifle more than 6 per cent on its capital.

same economy were shown in the management of state affairs that is enforced in private business enterprises.

Under the new state law mortgages on real estate cannot be assessed in all forms. For some time many banks had made borrowers pay a mortgage tax, but those which have not enforced this rule will charge borrowers 2 1/2 per cent net, which raises the gross rate of interest to 7 1/2 per cent, as the tax rate in San Francisco is now 52 on the $100 valuation, with an assessment of 60 per cent of the value.

So lively is the rate war between the steamship companies between this city and Los Angeles that it is predicted fares will drop to $2 before the struggle is over. This war was caused by Bennett & Goodall, who put on the big steamers Harvard and Yale. The old companies began slashing rates, but these cuts were met by the opposition, until now the rate is down to $3.50, including meals and berth.

Peter F. Dunne, for several years general attorney for the Southern Pacific Company, resigned this week to take the place in the firm of Morrison & Brobeck formerly occupied by the late Judge Cope. Mr. Dunne has been one of the most successful attorneys the railroad corporation ever retained, and it is understood he will still handle important cases for the company.

Much money has been spent by the Customs Department in searching for smuggled opium here, but when the case of a saloon watchman on the steamer Siberia, who was caught taking opium ashore, came up in the police sixty days in the county jail. Customs officers declare this sentence much too light, considering the gravity of the offense.

The northwest corner of Sutter and Montgomery streets has been sold for $150,000. On the lot, which fronts 27 1/2 feet in Montgomery street and 69 feet in Sutter, will be erected a ten-story Class A office building. This lot for years was occupied by the Savings Union Bank.

Reports of the discovery of a new mining camp of great richness have come from Mount Shasta, in Washoe County, Nev., thirty miles north of Reno. The first reports told of quartz running up to $20,000 a ton, but this figure has now been scaled down to $100 a ton. The ledge is said to be two miles long and three feet wide. Hundreds of prospectors have pushed to the new camp, but it will be several weeks before it is known whether the discovery is a second Tonopah or Goldfield or whether it is a 'fake.'

THE PACIFIC SLOPE

(By Telegraph to This Tribune.)

San Francisco, March 25.—The supervisors and board of public works, instead of ordering the owners of shacks to remove them, are considering a proposition to extend the time of occupancy. When these wooden buildings were erected just after the great fire it was with the distinct understanding that they were to be torn down after three years. This period has not been extended to five years, but the owners are making feeble preparations for their removal, and it looks as though the present city government would permit the shacks to remain standing for another six months. Meanwhile many owners of brick and stone buildings erected since the fire are forced to pay high insurance rates because of the proximity of these shacks.

William O'Connor, son of the late Cornelius O'Connor, died in Los Angeles from typhoid fever this week. Mr. O'Connor was well known and popular. His father made a large fortune as a broker for Flood & O'Brien in the old bonanza days, when his commissions on sales of Constock mining stocks ran into the thousands every day.

E. E. Wade, for twenty years chief clerk of the Southern Pacific passenger department, has been made assistant general passenger agent under Traffic Manager Charles S. Fee. Wade succeeds F. E. Hatters, who recently went to Los Angeles as general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific there. C. W. Foy succeeds Wade as chief clerk.

Some idea of the activity in real estate since it was decided to hold the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco may be gained from the fact that a lot 65 feet front by 27 1/2 feet deep in Sutter street, just west of Larkin, sold this week for $45,000. An apartment house, to cost $90,000, will be built on the lot.

So little apparent faith have investors in the present municipal government that only $20,000 worth of Geary street railway bonds have been sold out of $200,000 of bonds. This slowness on the part of investors is due mainly to fear that the road will not be built for a long time and that even when operated under municipal rule it will not pay expenses.

It will cost $200,000 this year to run the State of California, of which $50,000 will be spent on common schools, nearly $1,000,000 on high schools and $750,000 on the University of California. The general appropriation budget will be nearly $1,000,000. This budget could be cut materially if the

THE PACIFIC SLOPE

(By Telegraph to This Tribune.)

San Francisco, March 25.—The supervisors and board of public works, instead of ordering the owners of shacks to remove them, are considering a proposition to extend the time of occupancy. When these wooden buildings were erected just after the great fire it was with the distinct understanding that they were to be torn down after three years. This period has not been extended to five years, but the owners are making feeble preparations for their removal, and it looks as though the present city government would permit the shacks to remain standing for another six months. Meanwhile many owners of brick and stone buildings erected since the fire are forced to pay high insurance rates because of the proximity of these shacks.

William O'Connor, son of the late Cornelius O'Connor, died in Los Angeles from typhoid fever this week. Mr. O'Connor was well known and popular. His father made a large fortune as a broker for Flood & O'Brien in the old bonanza days, when his commissions on sales of Constock mining stocks ran into the thousands every day.

E. E. Wade, for twenty years chief clerk of the Southern Pacific passenger department, has been made assistant general passenger agent under Traffic Manager Charles S. Fee. Wade succeeds F. E. Hatters, who recently went to Los Angeles as general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific there. C. W. Foy succeeds Wade as chief clerk.

Some idea of the activity in real estate since it was decided to hold the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco may be gained from the fact that a lot 65 feet front by 27 1/2 feet deep in Sutter street, just west of Larkin, sold this week for $45,000. An apartment house, to cost $90,000, will be built on the lot.

So little apparent faith have investors in the present municipal government that only $20,000 worth of Geary street railway bonds have been sold out of $200,000 of bonds. This slowness on the part of investors is due mainly to fear that the road will not be built for a long time and that even when operated under municipal rule it will not pay expenses.

It will cost $200,000 this year to run the State of California, of which $50,000 will be spent on common schools, nearly $1,000,000 on high schools and $750,000 on the University of California. The general appropriation budget will be nearly $1,000,000. This budget could be cut materially if the same economy were shown in the management of state affairs that is enforced in private business enterprises.

Under the new state law mortgages on real estate cannot be assessed in all forms. For some time many banks had made borrowers pay a mortgage tax, but those which have not enforced this rule will charge borrowers 2 1/2 per cent net, which raises the gross rate of interest to 7 1/2 per cent, as the tax rate in San Francisco is now 52 on the $100 valuation, with an assessment of 60 per cent of the value.

So lively is the rate war between the steamship companies between this city and Los Angeles that it is predicted fares will drop to $2 before the struggle is over. This war was caused by Bennett & Goodall, who put on the big steamers Harvard and Yale. The old companies began slashing rates, but these cuts were met by the opposition, until now the rate is down to $3.50, including meals and berth.

Peter F. Dunne, for several years general attorney for the Southern Pacific Company, resigned this week to take the place in the firm of Morrison & Brobeck formerly occupied by the late Judge Cope. Mr. Dunne has been one of the most successful attorneys the railroad corporation ever retained, and it is understood he will still handle important cases for the company.

Much money has been spent by the Customs Department in searching for smuggled opium here, but when the case of a saloon watchman on the steamer Siberia, who was caught taking opium ashore, came up in the police sixty days in the county jail. Customs officers declare this sentence much too light, considering the gravity of the offense.

The northwest corner of Sutter and Montgomery streets has been sold for $150,000. On the lot, which fronts 27 1/2 feet in Montgomery street and 69 feet in Sutter, will be erected a ten-story Class A office building. This lot for years was occupied by the Savings Union Bank.

Reports of the discovery of a new mining camp of great richness have come from Mount Shasta, in Washoe County, Nev., thirty miles north of Reno. The first reports told of quartz running up to $20,000 a ton, but this figure has now been scaled down to $100 a ton. The ledge is said to be two miles long and three feet wide. Hundreds of prospectors have pushed to the new camp, but it will be several weeks before it is known whether the discovery is a second Tonopah or Goldfield or whether it is a 'fake.'

THE PACIFIC SLOPE

(By Telegraph to This Tribune.)

San Francisco, March 25.—The supervisors and board of public works, instead of ordering the owners of shacks to remove them, are considering a proposition to extend the time of occupancy. When these wooden buildings were erected just after the great fire it was with the distinct understanding that they were to be torn down after three years. This period has not been extended to five years, but the owners are making feeble preparations for their removal, and it looks as though the present city government would permit the shacks to remain standing for another six months. Meanwhile many owners of brick and stone buildings erected since the fire are forced to pay high insurance rates because of the proximity of these shacks.

William O'Connor, son of the late Cornelius O'Connor, died in Los Angeles from typhoid fever this week. Mr. O'Connor was well known and popular. His father made a large fortune as a broker for Flood & O'Brien in the old bonanza days, when his commissions on sales of Constock mining stocks ran into the thousands every day.

E. E. Wade, for twenty years chief clerk of the Southern Pacific passenger department, has been made assistant general passenger agent under Traffic Manager Charles S. Fee. Wade succeeds F. E. Hatters, who recently went to Los Angeles as general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific there. C. W. Foy succeeds Wade as chief clerk.

Some idea of the activity in real estate since it was decided to hold the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco may be gained from the fact that a lot 65 feet front by 27 1/2 feet deep in Sutter street, just west of Larkin, sold this week for $45,000. An apartment house, to cost $90,000, will be built on the lot.

So little apparent faith have investors in the present municipal government that only $20,000 worth of Geary street railway bonds have been sold out of $200,000 of bonds. This slowness on the part of investors is due mainly to fear that the road will not be built for a long time and that even when operated under municipal rule it will not pay expenses.

It will cost $200,000 this year to run the State of California, of which $50,000 will be spent on common schools, nearly $1,000,000 on high schools and $750,000 on the University of California. The general appropriation budget will be nearly $1,000,000. This budget could be cut materially if the same economy were shown in the management of state affairs that is enforced in private business enterprises.

Under the new state law mortgages on real estate cannot be assessed in all forms. For some time many banks had made borrowers pay a mortgage tax, but those which have not enforced this rule will charge borrowers 2 1/2 per cent net, which raises the gross rate of interest to 7 1/2 per cent, as the tax rate in San Francisco is now 52 on the $100 valuation, with an assessment of 60 per cent of the value.

So lively is the rate war between the steamship companies between this city and Los Angeles that it is predicted fares will drop to $2 before the struggle is over. This war was caused by Bennett & Goodall, who put on the big steamers Harvard and Yale. The old companies began slashing rates, but these cuts were met by the opposition, until now the rate is down to $3.50, including meals and berth.

Peter F. Dunne, for several years general attorney for the Southern Pacific Company, resigned this week to take the place in the firm of Morrison & Brobeck formerly occupied by the late Judge Cope. Mr. Dunne has been one of the most successful attorneys the railroad corporation ever retained, and it is understood he will still handle important cases for the company.

Much money has been spent by the Customs Department in searching for smuggled opium here, but when the case of a saloon watchman on the steamer Siberia, who was caught taking opium ashore, came up in the police sixty days in the county jail. Customs officers declare this sentence much too light, considering the gravity of the offense.

The northwest corner of Sutter and Montgomery streets has been sold for $150,000. On the lot, which fronts 27 1/2 feet in Montgomery street and 69 feet in Sutter, will be erected a ten-story Class A office building. This lot for years was occupied by the Savings Union Bank.

Reports of the discovery of a new mining camp of great richness have come from Mount Shasta, in Washoe County, Nev., thirty miles north of Reno. The first reports told of quartz running up to $20,000 a ton, but this figure has now been scaled down to $100 a ton. The ledge is said to be two miles long and three feet wide. Hundreds of prospectors have pushed to the new camp, but it will be several weeks before it is known whether the discovery is a second Tonopah or Goldfield or whether it is a 'fake.'

same economy were shown in the management of state affairs that is enforced in private business enterprises.

Under the new state law mortgages on real estate cannot be assessed in all forms. For some time many banks had made borrowers pay a mortgage tax, but those which have not enforced this rule will charge borrowers 2 1/2 per cent net, which raises the gross rate of interest to 7 1/2 per cent, as the tax rate in San Francisco is now 52 on the $100 valuation, with an assessment of 60 per cent of the value.

So lively is the rate war between the steamship companies between this city and Los Angeles that it is predicted fares will drop to $2 before the struggle is over. This war was caused by Bennett & Goodall, who put on the big steamers Harvard and Yale. The old companies began slashing rates, but these cuts were met by the opposition, until now the rate is down to $3.50, including meals and berth.

Peter F. Dunne, for several years general attorney for the Southern Pacific Company, resigned this week to take the place in the firm of Morrison & Brobeck formerly occupied by the late Judge Cope. Mr. Dunne has been one of the most successful attorneys the railroad corporation ever retained, and it is understood he will still handle important cases for the company.

Much money has been spent by the Customs Department in searching for smuggled opium here, but when the case of a saloon watchman on the steamer Siberia, who was caught taking opium ashore, came up in the police sixty days in the county jail. Customs officers declare this sentence much too light, considering the gravity of the offense.

The northwest corner of Sutter and Montgomery streets has been sold for $150,000. On the lot, which fronts 27 1/2 feet in Montgomery street and 69 feet in Sutter, will be erected a ten-story Class A office building. This lot for years was occupied by the Savings Union Bank.

Reports of the discovery of a new mining camp of great richness have come from Mount Shasta, in Washoe County, Nev., thirty miles north of Reno. The first reports told of quartz running up to $20,000 a ton, but this figure has now been scaled down to $100 a ton. The ledge is said to be two miles long and three feet wide. Hundreds of prospectors have pushed to the new camp, but it will be several weeks before it is known whether the discovery is a second Tonopah or Goldfield or whether it is a 'fake.'

SPECIAL EUROPEAN COLUMNS

EUROPEAN ADVERTISEMENTS. LONDON SHOPS.

EUROPEAN ADVERTISEMENTS. LONDON SHOPS.

FOREIGN RESORTS.

FOREIGN RESORTS.

FOREIGN RESORTS.

The Sign When in Europe this Season don't fail to pay a visit to Peter Robinson's "The Fashion Centre of the Empire" OXFORD ST. & REGENT ST. LONDON

Everything for Ladies' Gentlemen's & Children's wear

Marshall & Snelgrove HENRIETTA STREET. "The Daylight Store." SILK MERCERS and GENERAL DRAPERS TAILOR-MADE GOWNS A SPECIALTY. 334-348, OXFORD STREET, LONDON, W. TOP OF BOND STREET.

JAS. SHOOLBRED & CO., Fashionable Store The very latest Fashions in every detail of Ladies Outfits are always to be seen. VISITORS ARE WELCOMED AND THEIR VISIT MADE INTERESTING. EVERYTHING for Personal wear—For the House—and for the Table. JAS. SHOOLBRED & CO., Tottenham House, Tottenham Court Road, LONDON.

Its $222,729,300 stock outstanding, according to the figures of its report.

The National Bank of Commerce control, which has for several years rested with the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Mutual Life Insurance Company, which have held respectively 50.21 and 36.68 shares out of the total 200,000, passed to a syndicate of great banking interests, which includes members of the firm of J. C. Morgan & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and representatives of the First National Bank and the National City Bank, the syndicate having bought one-half of the holdings of each of the two insurance companies, or about 8,150 shares in all, which with the stock already owned by the syndicate interests will give them a little less than one-third of the Bank's common stock, or a good working control.

The purchase price is understood to have been $20 a share, which represents a small profit to the Equitable and a handsome profit to the Mutual Life.

"Harmony between the Gould and Rockefeller-Kuhn, Loeb-Deutsche Bank interests in the Missouri Pacific Railway Company was indicated by the action of the new board of directors at the organization meeting, which was presided over by George J. Gould, and was emphasized by George J. Gould in a statement after the meeting, at which, in pursuance of his arrangement with the banking interests, he retired from the presidency and was elected to the newly created office of chairman of the board. The presidency will remain vacant for the present, pending the selection of a successor to Mr. Gould.

"In a decision concurred in by all the judges and handed down by the Court of Appeals at Albany the so-called workmen's compulsory compensation act, passed at the last session of the Legislature, after the subject of employers' liability, which had been under investigation by a legislative commission for more than a year, was declared unconstitutional. Under the act an employer of labor in what has become known as extra-hazardous occupations was liable for all injuries to his employees even though it should be shown don, Louis Oscar Roty, the noted French engraver of medals and member of the French Institute, died in Paris. Justice Desire Grouard, senior judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, and father of Sir Edmund Percy Cranwell Grouard, Governor of Northern Nigeria, died in Ottawa, Ont., from injuries received when thrown from a sleigh. Mrs. Amanda D. Fisher, mother of Walter L. Fisher, Secretary of the Interior, died in Washington. Henry A. Ferguson, an American painter and associate member of the National Academy of Design, died in his home, No. 225 West 74th street, from pneumonia. Thomas T. Williams, treasurer of the New York Evening Journal Publishing Company, died in his apartment at Hotel Gotham. Major Henry Hill Bonham, U. S. A., retired, died from heart disease at his home, No. 299 West 27th street, in this city. This city's greatest specialists tried to save the life of Dr. Edward E. Ashley, one of the bacteriologists at the Quarantine Hospital, in the harbor, but the young man died from cerebral spinal meningitis, contracted while participating in the autopsies on the bodies of Greek steamer passengers brought to this port on the Greek steamship Patras, and the Martha Washington, of the Austro-American Line, Dr. Simon Flexner, of the Rockefeller Institute, discoverer of the new serum successfully used in the cases of several of the infected immigrants, attended Dr. Ashley at his home. Injections of the new serum were given, but in vain. Frederick S. Ellis, a millionaire retired contractor, died from a self-inflicted pistol shot through the stomach and heart in his apartment in the Lexington, at Central Park West and 76th street. Edwin Lord, a friend of the late Senator George C. Platt, was accidentally scalded to death in a bathroom of the Republic Club, in Bryant Park South, where he had lived for some years. He evidently had a fainting spell or cerebral hemorrhage. The Right Rev. Dr. James Theodore Holly, Bishop of Haiti, the first negro consecrated by the American Episcopal Church, died on that island. Colonel Lewis T. Brown, who was a protégé of An-draw Carnegie and one of his partners in the steel business in Pittsburgh, died in Atlantic City. William Ward Childs, secretary and treasurer of the American Manufacturing Company, of Greenpoint, died at St. John's Hospital, Brooklyn, after an operation. John E. Backus, president of the Queens County Trust Company, of Jamaica, Long Island, died yesterday at his home in Hoffman Boulevard, Newtown.

GETTING READY FOR A NEW START.—Lincoln (New) News.

NEW AVIATION RECORDS.

"What else happened that a well informed citizen ought to remember?" asked busy man.

"Louis Breguet made a record flight at Douai, France, when he carried eleven passengers in his monoplane a distance of 200 miles. The flight was made at a height of 12,000 feet. The total weight of the twelve persons was 1,315 pounds, and the combined weight of the monoplane and its occupants was 2,592 pounds.

"Roger Sommer, the French biplaneist, broke Breguet's record the very next day, when he carried thirteen persons, weighing in the aggregate 1,680 pounds. He flew, however, only two-thirds of a mile. Shattered by a storm of shell, the old

SWITZERLAND For Health and Pleasure Visit ST. MORITZ WITH ITS WORLD-FAMOUS MINERAL SPRINGS. The Highest and Most Fascinating Resort in Switzerland. 6,000 FEET ABOVE THE SEA. SEASON JUNE 1 TO SEPTEMBER The Exhilarating Alpine Air combined with the Sunshine and Blue Sky of ST. MORITZ, promote renewed health and vigor. THE GRAND HOTEL. THE HOTEL DE LUXE OF THE ALPS. Opened in 1905, with latest improvements. 300 rooms. Private Apartments with Bath and Dressing rooms. Thorough quiet secured by double passages. Grand Society Room with most beautiful views on the Lake and Mountains. Most modern Sanitary and Ventilating arrangements. Vacuum Cleaner. Lift to all floors. DAILY CONCERTS BY THE MILAN ORCHESTRA. TENNIS. GOLF. CROQUET. BOATING ON THE LAKE. TROUT FISHING. GREAT VARIETY OF DELICIOUS EXCURSIONS. ENGADINE EXPRESS TRAIN: CALAIS—PARIS—ST. MORITZ. Illustrated Booklet and Tariff from "Town and Country" Travel Bureau, 380, Fifth Avenue, New York; Direct from the Hotel; and (in England) from Gould & Foreman, Ltd., 54, New Oxford Street, London.

BERLIN and HAMBURG HOTEL ESPLANADE Two of the Most Magnificent Hotels in Europe With all Latest Comforts and Luxury. Restaurant de Luxe—Open to Non-Residents. Illustrated Booklet free from N.Y. Tribune Office.

WILDUNGEN "THE FURSTENHOF" Finest and Largest Hotel. Superb location. Apartments with hot and cold water and central heating. Golf, tennis, etc. GRAND HOTEL FLORENCE Hotel d'Italie The Leading Hotel of Florence, on the Lung-Arno, with commanding view of picturesque surroundings and River Arno. Beautiful Winter Gardens. Private Bath. Steam Heat, etc.

battleship Texas, remained the San Marcos, four months' pay, amounting to $1,200, for tending and allowing corporal punishment, and for being unduly familiar with women teachers in school. He was charged with kissing them.

EQUIPPED FOR HIS TRADE.

"A number of surgeons at the German Hospital in San Francisco saw an X-ray picture taken of the head of 'Jack' Johnson, the champion pugilist. His skull was found to be from one-half to three-quarters of an inch thick, which is thicker than the skull of an ox.

"Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gavner, convicted of fraud in the Savannah Harbor improvements case, were liberated from the federal prison in Atlanta after a hearing, in which the United States Commissioner allowed them to take the pauper's oath.

"Julius Ehrlich, for forty years a dry-goods merchant, proprietor of the department store of Ehrlich Brothers, Sixth avenue and 23d street, announced his retirement from business and the closing of his house after an existence of more than half a century.

"The French government awarded a life-saver's gold medal of the second class to Eugene Higgins, of the New York Yacht Club, for gallantry in saving two Frenchmen at the time of the wrecking of his yacht, the Varma, which went ashore on the coast of Madeira November 16, 1910.

"Charles W. Elliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, reached the age of seventy-seven.

"William J. Bryan became fifty-one years old this week. Receiving the congratulations of numerous admirers, he said he was a Knight of Pythias, an Eagle, a Woodman, an Elk and a Mason.

"All fraternal societies seem to be open to him," commented busy man, "except the Order of ex-Presidents."

FEDERAL PROTECTION FOR BIRDS.

Federal protection for migratory birds during their flight must be had if these feathered creatures are to escape extermination, says William L. Finley, of Portland, Ore., a widely known ornithologist. Mr. Finley is a bird authority, whose researches have been prosecuted from the Atlantic to the Pacific, as well as abroad. He is a lecturer for the National Association of Audubon Societies of New York.

He favors the establishment of government or state reservations that shall be retreats for wild birds. These areas, he suggests, may be established on private estates where the owners are willing, and placed in charge of good gamekeepers, who shall prohibit all shooting. Snags and game birds, he believes, will thus become abundant in these refuges and will increase in numbers over the surrounding country.

Mr. Finley has just returned from California, where he has studied the state game laws. "Towards there he found the state has gone into the business of raising pheasants, which are furnished to farmers and others for protection, the young being liberated in favorable places throughout the state.

"Pheasant farming offers splendid opportunities for profit in Oregon," said Mr. Finley, "for the climate is well adapted to this business. Pheasants are hardy birds and can be raised about as easily as chickens, while there is much profit in them. The farmers in our wild pheasant areas are being depleted, the state will eventually have to close the season of these birds entirely, else secure new birds for restocking the fields and woods. If farmers in different parts of the state would raise pheasants, a part of the game fund could be spent in buying and releasing these birds."—Washington Herald.

A PAINFUL PROCESS.

Sunday School Teacher—If you are a good student (like you will go to Heaven and have a gold crown on your head. Willie! Not for mine, when I had one of them things put on a tooth once—Puck.

On the Boardwalk

Atlantic City, March 25.—The sun rose in splendor and shone warmly upon the ocean and boardwalk Monday, as if to make up for Sunday's rain. And Tuesday, too, and Wednesday were delightful. That spring has reached Atlantic City is made manifest by the arrival of that summer harbinger, the summer trolley car. The cars have appeared on Atlantic avenue, and already "fares" are becoming willing to "miss a car" to enjoy the open air.

The new addition to the Hotel Dennis, at Michigan avenue and Boardwalk, which cost about $200,000, is completed, and many of the winter corners of the hotel have been opened already by people from many distant corners of the earth. The hotel now contains 36 sleeping apartments, for every need or want or desire and for the comfort and convenience of the stranger within the gate.

United States Senator Burrows, of Michigan, accompanied by Mrs. Burrows and their daughter, Miss Burrows, was a weekend guest at the Hotel Marlborough-Blenheim.

John G. Breen, of London, a member of the British Parliament, is at the Hotel Strand.

The Continental Hotel, in South Tennessee avenue, with its central location, has become one of Atlantic City's leading hotels under the ownership and management of Mrs. Margaret Walsh Duncan. During the winter months the hotel has been greatly improved. It now has 116 sleeping rooms.

Sir Alphonse Pelletier, Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Quebec, Canada, who has been ill in a local hospital for some weeks, is convalescent, and has taken apartments at the Hotel Chelsea for a brief stay. The Hon. Edward Blake, former Minister of Agriculture for Canada, joined Sir Alphonse's party at the Chelsea Tuesday.

Ex-Governor William M. Bunn, president of the Clover Club, of Philadelphia, has been invited to come to Atlantic City to speak on the subject, "City Philanthropy." It is expected that Mr. Bunn will deliver his address at the meeting of the Atlantic City Business League to be held on Friday.

Thousands of Roman Catholic residents of Atlantic City paid tribute to the Rev. Father Charles J. McFadden on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood, on Monday night, at the parish of St. Ignace.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Dreyfuss, of New York, are at the Hotel Windsor.

The Misses Edna, Hettie and Ruth E. Dace, of New York, were week-end visitors at the Hotel Traymore.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. De Rives, of New York, are at the Hotel Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Galbar, of New York, are at the Grand Atlantic Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Baird, of Yonkers, N. Y., are at the Hotel Traymore.

Mrs. E. S. Grey, of New York, is at the Hotel Radcliff.